Luke Deamer, EngD. M.ESci. FGS. GIEMA

Luke is Group Sustainability Director for Keller, responsible for sustainability strategy, engagement and reporting across the Group. He holds a sustainability PhD, focused on supporting the adoption of improved sustainable processes across all functions of a geotechnical company. Having authored several papers on geotechnical company sustainability, Luke chair's the EFFC Sustainability Working Group and co-chairs the EFFC-DFI sustainability guides task group. His previous work includes working as a structural geologist on the Panama Canal and for the Oman Drilling Project.